And now... TOP HANDSHOWER

We were thrilled to read about our Eco Multispray Shower Sets in August's Consumer Magazine. Rated top in their survey, it's a really comfortable shower, with 5 functions, using only 7 litres of water per minute. These shower sets have a restrictor supplied in the elbow and, because of that, the replacement heads we were selling didn't need a restrictor in them. However, many consumers assumed that the article referred to both the head by itself and the full set. So, to assist our customers, and prevent any further confusion, we now supply both the set and the head on its own, with a restrictor fitted in the head. We will no longer supply sets with a restrictor in the elbow. If any of your customers purchased the old head by itself and found it without restrictor, all they have to do is contact us with proof of purchase, and we will send them a restrictor free of charge.

We recommend

✓ Aquatica Eco Smarte Multispray Hand Shower SM MSHSS cp
$246
Good points
 Good effectiveness and comfort. Very good 7 litres/minute water-use rate. 5 spray patterns.
But
 Removing the restrictor increased the head's effectiveness - but its water use went up to 16 litres/minute and its comfort rating went from good to poor. This head achieved a higher overall score with the restrictor in place.
Bottom line
 The most-liked shower head in our trial. On low pressure it also used the least hot water.
Availability
 Sold at most plumbing merchants, but may have to be ordered in.

Cost cutting Measures

Ever mindful of these hard economic times, staff thought long and hard about ways to cut costs during the boss's recent absence overseas.

And so it was decided a few weeks ago to leave the stamp off one (unlucky) merchant's invoice envelope, thus saving Aquatica a whopping 50c. Unfortunately, Alex of Plumb'In Whangarei ended up paying $1.50 to retrieve his own invoices, so in hindsight, it probably wasn't that good an idea (sorry Alex ☹).

And no, we don't think we'll try that idea again...

Auckland HomeShow

8th - 12th September 2010

As in past years, Aquatica were once again at the Auckland Homeshow in September, proudly showing off their newest tapware ranges.

Also on display was their latest prototype laundry tub, the LaundraMax1200. This wider tub was designed following the enormous success of the LaundraMax900 (pictured above).

Steve Price pops into Aquatica

A few weeks ago staff were slightly taken aback when Warriors ex-Captain, Steve Price, walked into our Reception area. Apparently he had seen Aquatica's LaundraMax tub and wanted to take a closer look. Lucky staff member Jenny Carter had her cellphone handy and had her photo taken with him, a copy of which she promptly sent to her husband with the message "I've got a new boyfriend". (Yea right!)

Dragon Boat Racing

There's a lot more to George Elekana than meets the eye - and believe me, there's plenty to meet the eye, especially with all the body-building and training that he does for his dragon-boat racing. Thankfully, despite his size, George has taken great care with the Aquatica stock for the past 5 years and is well recognised as a key member of staff.

George and his wife Monica started their own dragon-boat team for fun. The whole team are first-timers in dragon-boating and yet their passion and enthusiasm for the sport saw them take out the gold medal in the recent Wellington Dragon-Boating Championships. Well Done George & Co!

Her expertise in moving product in and out of Aquatica is second to none.

In their leisure time, Jenny and husband Ray, like to escape to their holiday home in Ruakaka where Jenny spends many a happy hour watching the sea roll in and out, just like she does with Aquatica's inventory!
